Dear Mr. Goodwin:

I am addressing this letter to you in care of your publisher and hope they will send it to you.

Your book GREENBACK received two excellent reviews I read and I congratulate you on it multitude of appealing qualities. You have enlivened American numismatics and economics into entertainment.

Since you cite my work on the $ sign and other studies that I have written I feel I can ask you to help me find out when the £ sign was first used. A book by David Sinclair entitled THE POUND (London 2000) was published and that fact was not included. I have no way of contacting the author who is English and wonder if you know his whereabouts or the answer to my question.

If you ever need pictures of American numismatic pieces for further writing or American numismatic literature we have large holdings. I am a researcher and technical writer as you realize but enjoyed your book immensely.

Keep writing and thrive.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman
